“ Grandma, it seems like it all happened too suddenly. We were just visiting you and now as Anthony said, all we have are our memories. But they are truly wonderful memories. I'll often think of how much seeing your other great grandchild :-) come through that door would light up your face and you smiled from the time he made it until we left. <3 We love you Grandma and will miss you. Love always Brittney & Felicia's baby "BAM"

Ms. Davis it's still so unbelievable to me that you're gone when i receive the call that you had passed I had to leave work to get myself together i remember when i was employed at the Senior Center we bonded instantly you took me under your wing & treated me like another daughter of yours you even use to bring me food to work everyday & make me eat even when i wasn't hungry lol you said i could stand a few pounds it wouldn't kill me haha always just wanted to make sure I was ok & i did the same for you & when I told you I was leaving the Senior Center to further my career we both cried together but I would've never thought that i wouldn't have saw you again Ms. Davis this is truly a hard pill to swallow as I'm fighting back the tears now but I know that you've already received your crown because you were truly an angel so you go ahead and rest my lovebug until we meet again R.I.H hugs and kisses 🙏

“ Dear Ford Family,
My deepest sympathy in the lost of your mother. In studying Revelations this year, I realized Heaven is beyond words. Meeting God face to face, streets of gold, pearly gates, new Heaven, new earth, heavenly bodies, no pain, no suffering, and on it goes of only purity, and righteousness. Miss Doris is smiling down on you and soon you will be smiling back as you think on her and all the wonderful memories she left behind.
Sincerely,
Greg & Shirley Brown
