“ I met Sue in 1984 during my ghericurl days. She worked at a grocery store around the corner from where I lived at the time and I would make eye contact with her on an almost daily basis. Little did I know, she had an uncle two doors down from me and I would see her going to visit him. During our relationship we brought a little girl into the world that Sue did a fantastic job of molding her into a little Sue. I couldn't have found or asked for a better mother for my daughter and will forever love her for her resilience and determination in seeing that Jazz grew into the woman that she is today. She would keep Jazz in line by threatening to send her to stay with me, so I guessed it worked because Jazz never came. Logistically our relationship was not a possibility, but Sue was always in my heart and on my mind. I will never listen to Luther Vandross again the same. We had a lot of laughs together and she will always be in my heart until we see each other again. I love you Sue. ”

“ You’ve been like a second mom to me, since becoming best friends with Jazz in kindergarten. You’ve fed us, taken us shopping, laughed until our tummies hurt and scolded like only you could do to teach us valuable lessons that will last a lifetime. There aren’t enough words to describe the sadness it brings to not only lose you but to know that my sister and her babies won’t have their MiMi anymore. Never in a million years would I have thought that going to Reagan’s Christmas program would be the last time I’d see you. I pray that you are now at peace and I know that Grandma Dot welcomed you with open arms. I love you!

Forever,
